State Science Fair Opening, 70 Schools Will Participate

Students from 70 Montana grade and high schools will set up space-age exhibits in the Field House for the eighth annual Montana Science Fair tomorrow and Saturday.

Prof. R. A. Diettert, chairman of the botany and microbiology department, is director of the fair. One hundred and sixty-five exhibitors will set up their displays by tomorrow noon. Judging will be tomorrow afternoon, and the show will be open free to the public from 6 p.m. to midnight tomorrow and 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday.

Fair exhibits are divided into junior and senior divisions. In the senior division one boy and one girl will receive an expense-paid trip to the National Science Fair in Albuquerque, N.M., May 6-11.

All contestants in the Fair won superior awards in one of the 14 district fairs held during the last few weeks.

Third Moot Trial For Law Students Presents Collision

The hypothetical collision of a private car and a taxi cab sets the stage for the third of the present series of senior moot trials to be held Monday at 7 p.m. in the law school court room.

A woman passenger in the private car claims damages from the cab company for a whiplash injury suffered in the accident.

Participating in the trial are Robert Butzerin and Victor Valgenti, defense counsels; and Jacque Best and Archie Parker, plaintiff's counsels. The jury will be selected from students who volunteer, Bob Anderson, senior in Law, said.

Placement Bureau Job Interviews

Seniors interested in job interviews should make appointments before the interview date at the Placement Bureau, LA133.

Companies interviewing today are:

Arthur Young and Co., CPA; accounting majors.

The following companies will interview tomorrow:

Montgomery Ward & Co. will interview business administration and liberal arts majors interested in retail management training.

General Electric Co. Laboratories, Hanford Atomic Products Operation, Richland, Wash. for interested secretarial science majors.

Tours, entertainment and interviews are scheduled for the students. An awards luncheon Saturday afternoon will close the Fair.

Missing Freshman Is in California

Dan Wick, freshman in psychology from Great Falls, has been located in the San Francisco Bay Area, Dean Andrew Cogswell said yesterday. Wick was reported missing when he failed to arrive at Kimball, Neb. as scheduled March 20. An all-points bulletin was issued at that time.

Mr. Cogswell said that Wick has a brother in the Bay Area, but he declined to comment further. Wick was located shortly after this quarter began, Dean Cogswell said.

Associated Press coverage of state, national and international news will resume in Tuesday's Montana Kaimin. No Associated Press coverage will be carried in today's and tomorrow's Kaimins because of the short publication week.

Barbara Blegen to Begin Benefit Recitals Tonight

Barbara Blegen, 19-year-old nationally recognized pianist, will give benefit recitals at 8:15 tonight in the University Theater and at 12:15 tomorrow in the Music Recital Hall.

Miss Blegen began her training in Missoula at the age of six and was accepted as a special student in the music school at MSU when she was a sophomore in high school. At 15 she auditioned at the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia and was awarded a full scholarship for study with Rudolph Serkin, one of the world's foremost pianists. She has studied with him since 1959.

Last year Miss Blegen was one of three winners in the National Merriweather Post Contest in Washington, D.C., performing with the National Symphony Orchestra.

The performance at MSU is for the benefit of the Blegen-Honeycutt Memorial Tumor Foundation, which operates a weekly clinic for western Montana doctors to consult on unusual tumor cases. The

Movie Based on Story Written By Dorothy Johnson Honored

About 14 years ago a short story called "The Man Who Shot Liberty Valance" was written by Dorothy Johnson, assistant professor of journalism. Today, the movie based on her story is receiving the "Wrangler" award in Oklahoma City for being named the outstanding western movie of 1962 by the National Cowboy Hall of Fame and Western Heritage Center.

"It's a surprise to me," Miss Johnson said. "I wasn't even invited to the awards ceremony."

The author explained that James Warner Bellah wrote a screen play from her story and then "made a novelization." Miss Johnson said Bellah received more money for his screenplay than she did for the movie rights.

"I had nothing to do with it," she laughed. "I saw the movie once and thought it was all right but didn't feel I had to rush back to see it like I did with 'Hanging Tree.'"

The original version of "The Man Who Shot Liberty Valance" was first published in Cosmopolitan while Miss Johnson was working in New York. Now the story is in "Indian Country," a book of her short stories.

Miss Johnson said she is trying to stop writing western stories but feels she has been "type cast." She is now writing juvenile books.

Besides being a teacher and free-lance writer, Miss Johnson is director of the Montana Press Association.

'The True Beginning of Our End'

With this issue, the new staff of the Kamin begins its varied tasks — hearts typically flutter with doubts and apprehensions, but hopes, typically, soaring with new ideas and high aspirations.

Fears and expectations aside, the practical business of running a newspaper is sometimes a frustrating venture. There are any number of limitations. The occasional lack of time or space or both prevents journalists from always doing the best job. And the ethical journalist finds himself questioning whether to publish even the smallest filler, because he finds himself constantly harkening back to the do's and don't's he has learned along the road.

But in a great many ways, these three quarters of our term may be the most rewarding of our lives.

After all, we will be writing toward a select audience, for our readers are primarily college students. This fact implies that our audience is literate, as well as relatively open-minded and free-thinking. And, unless our generation has been completely snowed by cynics who have abrogated their responsibilities to live as free men, our audience is also one that is eager to learn and to act upon its ever-increasing knowledge.

Mistakenly or not, it is to this audience that the Kamin will attempt to speak. Considering this rather ideal band of readers, we have selected two roles that we cannot afford to assume if we want to hold our mast-head high.

One role is that of the bland "campus bulletin board." The extent to which our news coverage is sprightly and our opinions stimulating marks the degree to which we rise above this designation.

The other role is that of mirror. It is not the purpose of the Kamin to "reflect the campus" if the image in the glass is a smudged and sticky Lodge table, littered with gray ashes and half-filled coffee cups.

It is the purpose of a newspaper to portray and interpret the daily newsworthy events of its particular world. What is more newsworthy on a college campus than events that can add to the educational spectrum of the student? What stimulates the thinking processes more than a great many opinions articulated well?

To paraphrase ex-editor Bowler's Kamin editorial a year and a day ago, this newspaper belongs to the readers in the sense that public views have a right to be aired within it, and it belongs to the staff in the sense that the staff edits, judges, directs and moderates material from all sources.

For the ASMSU policy that governs this staff, see the statement below. . . . —whw

Kamin Statement of Policy

1. Editorial Functions and Responsibilities of the Kamin.

A. The Kamin, while it is a student newspaper, is usually regarded by the public at large as representing not only the students, but the faculty, and MSU as a whole. The paper, therefore, should never be used:

1. to advance the selfish interest of any group or clique of students or faculty;
2. to attack individuals or groups except in cases where it is clear to the editorial staff appointed by the Publications Committee that circumstances fully justify it; or
3. to publish any material that is libelous, blasphemous, or obscene.

D. In all exposes, crusades, editorials, signed letters, statements, assertions and articles that may be published in the Kamin, the following should always be followed as guides:

1. All the available facts that can be produced from all pertinent sources should be obtained.
2. The question of the appropriateness of the time to make a given expose, or to carry on a given crusade, should be thoughtfully and carefully considered.
3. The effect of the expose or crusade upon the citizens of the State should be thoughtfully considered. It must be remembered that serious injury to the reputation of the University may be caused by injudicious utterances.

E. All articles, editorials, letters or other material proposed for publication in the Kamin which involve public controversy are to be submitted for approval before publication to the Editor and are not to be published without his approval. All published letters to the Editor shall be signed and all editorials not expressing the opinion of the Editor shall carry the name or initials of the staff member or members who prepared them.

F. The staff of the Kamin is responsible to the Editor and the Publications Committee for the observance of this Statement of Policies. The Editor is expected to report immediately to the Publications Committee any violation of the Statement. It shall be the duty of all editors and business managers of ASMSU publications to report at least once each quarter to the Publications Committee on their respective responsibilities.

2. Functions and Responsibilities of the Kamin Business Staff.

B. The Business Manager reserves the right to refuse any advertising or advertising copy.

Lewis Posts Single Victory In Silvertip Track Defeat

Harley Lewis, three-year track letterman, posted the only Grizzly victory in an indoor track meet at Pullman, Wash., March 23.

Lewis' winning throw of 49 feet 11½ inches in the shotput event bettered the throw of his nearest competitor by more than a foot.

Other Grizzly thinclads to place in the meet which saw six field-house records shattered include Glen Hartley who placed third in the 70-yard dash, Sterling Wetzsteon who tied for fourth in the 300-yard dash, Tom Simpson, who came in second in the 600-yard run and Ed Whitelaw who pulled down a fourth place in the 70-yard high hurdles.

The Grizzly mile-relay team placed second in an event won by the Idaho team.

One aspect of the meet which is certain to make track Coach Harry Adams happy was the performance of his freshman squad.

Competing separately from the varsity team, the freshmen took two first places, a second, a third and a fourth.

Doug Brown, who promises to become one of the greatest Grizzly runners in the school's history, once again proved his worth as he won the mile-and-a-half race with a time of six minutes 52 seconds.

Dave Montague came in first in the shot put event with a toss of 44 feet 9¾ inches, his best mark thus far.

Other Grizzly freshmen to place in the meet included Ron Johnson who came in second in the 660-yard run, Warren Schmidt who placed third in the pole vault, and Jon Krutar who finished fourth in the 70-yard high hurdles.

Because of trouble with his approach, Montana pole vaulter Lynn Putnam failed to clear the starting height of 12 feet. Coach Adams stated that he expects Putnam to round into top form this weekend when the Grizzlies will compete in an indoor meet at Montana State College.

MSU Loses Three Out of Four In Banana Belt Tournament

After a somewhat disastrous start in last week's Banana Belt Tourney, the Grizzly baseball team finished strong with a 7-3 win over Gonzaga University.

The lack of adequate outdoor practice hurt the Grizzlies as they lost to Idaho 10-0, Washington State University 8-1 and Columbia Basin Junior College 12-7.

A series of Vandal pitchers combined to hold the Grizzlies to a single hit, as Idaho took the opening game of the tourney. Mike Dishman was the losing pitcher.

Don Morrison and Carl Schwertfeger were the losing pitchers in the next two games against WSU and CBJC as once again good hitting and pitching served to upset the Grizzlies.

A steady job on the mound by Morrison highlighted the Grizzly win over Gonzaga. Wild play, both in the field and on the mound, allowed the Grizzlies to score five runs in the fifth. The Grizzlies collected only two hits in the five-run fifth, but they proved to be enough as Gonzaga never threatened the Grizzly lead.

Montana Voters Elect Mayors; Cities Show Desire for Change

By JEFF GIBSON
Kaimin Associate Editor

Mayors in four of Montana's larger cities were turned out of office in Monday's elections, most of them by narrow margins.

Democrat Vern Griffith of Butte was the only incumbent to be re-elected mayor of a first class city. He ran without opposition.

Missoulians Elect Roche

Republican Leonard Roche, making his debut into Missoula politics, squeezed past Mayor Wesley Waldbillig by 198 votes out of a total 6,158 votes cast.

IT HAPPENED IN 1863

It was 100 years ago that the Idaho Territory, including Montana, was created. In other events in 1863, General Sully advanced against the Sioux and the gold rush to Alder City, later called Virginia City, began.

FEDERAL OWNERSHIP HIGH

Approximately 30 per cent of Montana's area is owned, held in trust or leased by the federal government.

In Billings the unofficial tabulation gave Willard E. Fraser the election with 3,979 votes. Fraser's closest opponent was Bill Hagen, a Republican and the first partisan candidate for mayor in Billings history. Hagen received 3,521 votes. Mayor Harold Gerke placed third with 3,025 votes.

Woman Elected in Great Falls

Another close race was in Great Falls where a Republican Alderwoman, Mrs. Charles Erdmann, won the mayorship over incumbent Democrat William H. Swanberg 6,716 votes to 6,418.

Carl Anderson, Independent mayor of Anaconda, lost to Democrat Joe Calnan by a scant 22 votes.

Helena and Bozeman are under a commissioner-manager form of government and had no mayoralty elections.

In the smaller cities, Democrat Peter Hamilton defeated Independent Mayor James Davey, 1,461 to 1,267, in the Havre race. In Dillon Philip B. Cottom, Progressive, was elected to a third term over Harold Murray. Livingston Mayor George Ommundsen was re-elected over his Democratic opponent, C. W. Gonder, by a vote of 1,072 to 858.

Newman Club Spat Ends

Legal action taken by the city to halt the use of a residence at 1325 Gerald Ave. by the Newman Club was officially ended on March 25, according to Father George Ferguson, the club's chaplain.

The city contended that the use of the house by the Catholic student group was in violation of city zoning ordinances.

Last October District Judge E. Gardner Brownlee found that student use of the house as a residence and for social purposes did not violate the ordinance.

Following this action the city filed a notice of appeal with the Supreme Court.

At a later meeting, the City Council in a 5-4 vote ordered the city attorney to dismiss the appeal. The council ruled that the appeal action had not been ordered or condoned by the city.

On March 25 Jeremy G. Thane, attorney for the Newman Club asked for a written order dismissing the case. Following the request, Judge Brownlee, acting through Judge Emmet Glone, ordered the case dismissed.

36 DAYS THAT CHANGED THE PERFORMANCE PICTURE IN AMERICA

In 36 days, starting with the Monte Carlo Rallye in January of this year, our products have posted a series of competition wins that have made performance history. Here's what has happened:

Three V-8 Falcon Sprints were entered in the Monte Carlo Rallye. This is not a race. It is a trial of a car's total capabilities. We did it (nervously) for the experience and with practically no sense of expectation, because we had not entered an event like this before. One Sprint ended the experiment in a snowbank. But the others finished 1-2 in their class with such authority that they moved the good, grey London Times to say: "The Falcons are part of a power and performance plan that will shake up motoring in every country in the world." That was Number One.

Number Two was a double win in the Pure Oil Performance Trials. Fords captured Class 1 and Class 2 (for high performance and large V-8's). Both of these trials were for over-all points rolled up in economy, acceleration and braking tests.

Then, at Riverside in California, in America's only long-distance stock car event that is run on a road course (as opposed to closed circuit, banked tracks such as the track at Daytona), Dan Gurney pushed a Ford to first place.

The latest news comes north from Daytona. There in the open test that tears cars apart—the Daytona 500—Ford durability conquered the field. Fords swept the first 5 places . . . something no one else had equaled in the history of the event. In a competition—which anyone can enter—designed to prove how well a car hangs together, 9 Fords finished out of 12 entered . . . a truly remarkable record considering that over 50% of all cars entered failed to finish.

Why do we keep such an interested eye on competitions such as these? Is speed important to us? Frankly, no. The speed capabilities of the leading American cars are now grouped so closely together that the differences have no real meaning. To us, who are building cars, success in this kind of competition means just one thing: the car is strong. This kind of performance capability means that the car is so well built that it can stand up to normal driving—the kind of day-in, day-out demands you put your own car through—for thousands of miles longer than less capable cars.

In tests like the Daytona 500 and Riverside, we find out in an afternoon what might take us 100,000 test-track miles to discover. We learn how to build superior strength into suspension systems, steering systems, drive train, body, tires. Anyone can build a fast car. What we're interested in is the concept of "total" performance.

We believe in this kind of total performance because the search for performance made the automobile the wonderfully efficient and pleasurable instrument it is today—and will make it better tomorrow.

America's liveliest, most care-free cars!
